Historical/Biographical Sketch:

A larger than life figure in East Texas and wherever his business interests have taken him, Arthur Temple, Jr. led the Southern Pine Lumber Company during its evolution from local timber producer and sawmill to multi-tasking forest products and financial services company Temple-Inland. He also transformed the city of Diboll from a company sawmill town with run down houses, dirt roads, and roaming livestock into a model for small towns in East Texas with an elected government, city services, modern housing, and a shopping center. Arthur Temple's over 6 foot frame, love of Diboll and belief in its potential, love of hunting and golfing, and tenacity inside and outside the board room endeared him to many East Texans and made him a force to be reckoned with for others.

Born on April 8, 1920 in Texarkana, Arkansas, the son of Arthur Temple, Sr. and Katherine Sage Temple, Arthur Temple, Jr. was raised to become a leader in his family's business endeavors, started by his grandfather Thomas Lewis Latane Temple in 1893. Arthur Temple, Jr. started his career with Temple Lumber Company in 1938 as the Paris lumberyard bookkeeper and steadily worked upwards, fulfilling his father's wish that he slowly work his way through the company – in spite of his personal desires for a more challenging, yet risky career path. He went from bookkeeper to manager of the Lufkin operations and then became manager of Southern Pine Lumber Company's Diboll operations in 1948, then the center of the company's lumber ventures. By 1949, Arthur Temple Jr. was the Vice President and General Manager of Southern Pine Lumber Company. He became President and Director in 1951 upon the death of his father, Arthur Temple, Sr. In 1972 he was named Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer, a title he held until his retirement in 1983. During this time he engineered the company's growth and metamorphosis from Southern Pine Lumber Company to Temple Industries to Temple Eastex to Temple-Inland, as well as the massively profitable merger with Time, Inc. in 1973. Mr. Temple's business interests were not limited to one industry, however, and at one time he was the President, Vice President, Chairman of the Board, Director, or Advisory Director of such varied businesses as Sabine Investment Corp., Temple Associates, Texas Gypsum Company, Topaz Oil Company, Lumberman's Investment Company, Angelina Free Press, Diboll Housing Foundation, Time, Inc., Wheelabrator-Frye, NAVARO, Diboll State Bank, First Bank and Trust, Pineland State Bank, and Love Wood Products (to name a few).

Scope and Content Note:

The Arthur Temple, Jr. Papers span the years 1943 to 1978, with the bulk of the material from 1960-1978. The bulk of the content is characterized as correspondence. Though everything within this correspondence series is not strictly "correspondence" it is apparent from its original order that these were office files containing documents received by Arthur Temple's office, meant for his notice, or documents that were produced by Arthur Temple's office to be sent to others. The term correspondence is used to encompass all documents received in his office and filed alphabetically by subject. Though this is a broad term, it appears this is how office personnel classified all documents the office received. Since this arrangement is fairly logical and also a common system in corporate offices, the original arrangement has been maintained as much as logically possible. Most of this correspondence is business related, with an occasional personal file in among the papers, but since so much of Arthur Temple's personal life revolved around his company, even personal notes to family members and friends detailing local news, family news, gatherings, and hunting trips contain valuable insights into the workings of this family owned company. Other series include Financial Documents, Paid Bills, and Reports spanning roughly the same time period.

Provenance Note:

This record group forms part of a larger collection documenting the various manifestations of the Temple family businesses from 1894 – 1970's. At some point after its original use, Temple employees placed these documents in storage in the old commissary building near the old company headquarters. In 1996, The T.L.L. Temple Memorial Archives gained intellectual control of these documents, moving several hundred cubic feet of documents to remote storage and marking many other boxes still in the commissary. In 2004, staff at The History Center moved this large collection into The History Center building and began the process of re-housing and processing. The collection is divided into record groups, retaining original accession numbers. Because of the varied dates of removal from the commissary, different parts of these record groups have different accession numbers. Currently, only two accession numbers are affected: 1996:009 and 2004:014. Most of the collection is considered 2004:014.

Arrangement Note:

The Arthur Temple, Jr. papers are divided into four series: Chronological Correspondence, Miscellaneous Correspondence, Company Reports, and Financial Documents. The Correspondence series is arranged chronologically by year, and within each year, alphabetically. Due to inconsistencies in original order, some sections – mainly at the beginning, are arranged in a several year span. This inconsistency is only maintained when the archivist deemed that changing original order would be too disruptive to the intellectual control of the materials. Researchers should work closely with staff to ensure that all pertinent sources are consulted.
