Daniel Releases Tentative Program; Parade At 11 To Begin Festivities

Note to TV'er Hamp Keathley: Mantle may not hit 56, but this corner should come closer to guessing his season's output than many who figured him to 60 homers. . . we're not giving up until The Mick has played his last game of the year.

Our football predictions for this fall moved down to an even 500 this week after what we figure was an upset victory by Colmesneil. The Jacks further proved a point stressed earlier that they are slow starters and sometimes lack a scoring punch.

We figured on a tight game at Colmesneil and barely missed calling the game on the nose as the locals missed a TD in the closing minutes. But a miss is good as a mile and our prediction was off by seven points.

Still on football, we have heard several say that DHS coaches have again lined up a 'patsy' for the Homecoming game this year. This is not true!

Shelbyville has come up with what most Etex sports writers call their best team in ten years - A capacity crowd should be on hand for the Homecoming contest, and I feel sure that Diboll will be facing its toughest opponent of the season to that date.

Being a sports writer of little repute for about eight years - (we may as well stay on football), several have approached us with the idea of forming a Quarterback Club here.

The idea originated at the first of the season when the fence and clock at Lumberjack Stadium were not taken care of until the last minute. The fence was finally put up by some good supporters, and the plight of the clock seemed to be no one's fault since several electricians tried to repair it and failed.

At any rate, there seems to be a number of Jack fans interested in forming a Q-B Club - The functions of the club would be to support football, and football alone, in whatever way possible.

There is a need for such a club. Being organization solely for the promulgation of local football, the group would not work in conflict with any of our other civic clubs who support football among a host of other things.

A Quarterback Club would, I think, promote much interest in our Lumberjacks. If this is all that it did a valuable function would have been performed.

The only prerequisite for the membership in such a club, as far as I know, would be that the member liked the sport and was willing to do whatever he could to place Diboll on the football map.

Small wonder, indeed, that a club of this nature has not been formed before now. It would seem that it would do more good when the team it is supporting is playing in a losing season. And we have had our share of those in the last six years!

organizing a Quarterback Club If a move is to be made on it should be made now. All fellow citizens who are interested can contact me at 2226, or get in touch with Bill Jones at the Southern Pine Truck Shop, or with Eddie Shaw at the Treating Shirley Daniel today outlined the tentative program for Diboll Day as it now stands approved by the steering and program committees. Daniel, chairman of the program committee, said that last minute changes might possibly be made.

The biggest parade in Diboll history will unroll at 11 a.m. the morning of Sept. 29 with a hectic day of fun and festivity to follow. Under the direction of Bennie Rector, the parade will begin at the First Methodist, to follow the pattern of Loop 210 until it meets Highway 59, then do a column right and file into the Village. The procession which will feature at least 10 bands and a multitude of other entries including the Angelina Mounted Quadrille and Sheriff's Posse of Lufkin, will come to a halt at the Diboll Community Park (Scout House) after it has crossed Hwy. 59 and followed Farm Road 58 in front of the High school.

WILL HEAR SPEECH

The anticipated crowd of 6,500 will hear a prominent speaker soon after the parade terminates at the Community Park. The speaker's identity will remain a surprise until a later announcement. Presentation of the crown to the Diboll Queen will then be made.

At about 12 noon, pit-style barbecue will be served for 50c per plate. Cooking will be done under supervision of Ben Anthony, famed party arranger of Southern Pine Lumber Company's Boggy Slough clubhouse. During the dinner hour, hand concerts will be given by several visiting bands as selected by Foster King.

HUGGIN'S SHOW

Hank Huggin's Show, seen over KTRE-TV in Lufkin, will appear at the Park for after-dinner entertainment. Awards for band and float entries, both for white and colored, will then be made by the judges. Judges for the parade will be Ward Burke, Aubrey Cannon, and G S Smith.

Service pin awards will be awarded employees of Southern Pine Lumber Co. First pin awards were made in official Diboll Day ceremonies last year.

WILD WEST SHOW

By this time, Daniel said, it should be about 3 p.m., at which time the Homecoming crowd is to move to Miller Park. The Angelina Mounted Quadrille will present a riding and roping show with the accent placed on expert horsemanship. Drawing for the $159.00 portable TV will be held then, followed by another riding exhibition by the Sheriff's posse of Lufkin.

BOAT DRAWING

The expected crowd of 6500 is expected to become much larger in number at this time, according to Daniel. Someone, probably a young child, will be selected to draw from a box containing thousands of stubs in order that the winner of the $1600 boat, motor, and trailer can be determined.

TOURS FRIDAY

Diboll Day will, by this time be drawing to a close in the true sense of the word. A few other activities are scheduled to take place on the big day but have not been completely ironed out by various committees.

Tours of Temple Industry will be given Friday morning as a build-up for Saturday. And an over-capacity crowd is expected to jam Lumberjack Stadium on

One of the world's largest single pieces of precision mechanized equipment, a 300-foot rotary kiln for the manufacture of cement, is being completed at the Texas Portland Cement Plant at Orange, Texas. The kiln will convert oyster shells into regular and special types of cement. Those responsible for engineering and constructing the facility have designated it as 'the world's most modern cement plant'.

Sec. Benson Forgot Small Farmer In His Newest Program

(The following is a nationally syndicated editorial, and the views expressed therein do not necessarily constitute any or all of the opinions of this newspaper pertaining to the subject matter - The Editor)

Out of Washington comes the statement that the United States Department of Agriculture is launching an emergency program designed to halt the disappearance of the small family farms in the United States. In the last five years 750,000 farms of less than 250 acres have been abandoned.

Take the Soil Bank program, for example, it is designed for the big farmer who may be cultivating hundreds of acres. He can afford to accept $50 per acre to take perhaps 100 acres out of cultivation. For this, he gets $5,000 from the Government, and need not hire the labor and pay the cost of cultivating the land.

On the other hand, the small farmer with only a dozen or so acres, for example, cannot afford to take any of his acres out of production for the $50 per acre. He and his family have probably been cultivating this land themselves, and if they realized $200 profit per acre, that has given them a cash income of $2400 per year. They cannot afford to take even the acre out of production and accept the $50 for the $220 they have been making in the past.

Farm income has steadily decreased for the last few years, and in the month declined another three percent.

The Department of Agriculture, now under the direction of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Tamm Benson - critics of whom say that his big farm background prompts him to neglect the little farmer - should have recommended a parity price support program with high supports for the first ten or fifteen acres lower supports for the next 25 or fifty, and lowest supports for additional acres taken out of cultivation.

This would have forced the big farmer, who was receiving 90 per cent parity supports from the Government in the form of high checks, to cut down on his over-production and would have allowed the little farmer to remain profitable.

Since there are many more small farmers than large farmers, this would have been in the interest of the nation and would have stopped the drying up of small farms and would have maintained prosperity in rural areas in the country as the small farmer has often lost the little margin of extra money with which he has bought appliances, cars, and other goods in recent years.

Welcome Cleaners Back In Business

Welcome Cleaners entered the Diboll business picture for the fourth time under new management last Monday.

The business was started in 1953 by Dan Fenley, was then taken by Jim Fenley, then by Preacher Stuart, then by O. D. Stivers, and finally returned to Mr. Stuart who closed it down at the start of the summer.

Mr. Stuart opened the doors at 7 a.m. last Monday and anticipated staying open for good this time.

Humble Cameraman Due To Arrive For Sept. 29 'Day'

Mr. Frank Zehentner of Houston will be on hand to film the Fourth Annual Edition of Diboll Day according to recent information received from Taylor Branch of Jamieson Film Co. of Dallas, producers of Humble Oil and Refining Company's "Texas in Review".

Humble Oil features such outstanding state activities as Diboll Day on their Lone Star review program, seen each week in this area at 6:30 p.m. over station KTRE-TV in Lufkin.

Mr. Zehentner will arrive in Diboll Friday, September 28, and will be the guest of Diboll Boosters, who originated the 1st 'Diboll Day' in 1953 as a commemorative tribute to Diboll residents who have contributed greatly to the lumber industry.

Diboll Nursery Now Remodeling

M. W. Schinke revealed today that remodeling work on Diboll Nursery and Florist display facilities was moving along rapidly.

Included in the remodeling program: New pot-plant display house; rearrangement of the florist shop with large display window; more exclusive arrangements throughout the plant.

Schinke said that all displays would be changed weekly with more colorful and varied arrangements the final plan of the remodeling activity.

A meeting of all parents of Little League and Pony League players will be held at the high school library tonight immediately following the P-T-A meeting, according to league prexy Calvin Lawrence.

Lawrence said he hoped that all parents having boys in either of the leagues would make an effort to attend, so that the election of officers for the coming year would be representative and agreeable.

Axemen May Field Shuffled Backfield For Chester Friday

Coach Ervin DuBose may field a 'new' backfield for the annual Diboll-Chester tilt, set to unravel for the eighth year at Lumberjack Stadium tomorrow night at 8 pm.

This information was still not completely official when this copy went to press, but it was thought that new arrangements concerning the Jack's signal caller were in the making. Such rumors were frequent this week amid a flurry of partisan criticism following the 6-0 defeat of the locals by a not-too-strong Colmesneil team. The see-saw battle was marked with unsteady Lumberjack signal-calling, inexcusable incompleteness of the passes, and the apparent disregard for the bruising running ability of fullback Donald Capps a consistent ground-gainer in both the Elkhart and Colmesneil contests, the 175-pound senior has been used only sparingly with Diboll in possession inside the 10 yard line.

AT COLMESNEIL

The Jacks failed to push across a TD in last Friday's game, although John Hannah intercepted an enemy aerial and trucked it to the six. With two minutes left in the game, Diboll failed to score. The only score of the contest came on a 42-yard pass play from Youngblood to end Earl Owens. The try for the point missed as the first half ended, and that was just about the story in a nutshell. What seemed to be touchdown passes were dropped by, or either over-shot, both ends and halfbacks as the Jacks went to the air in the second half.

These same pass plays failed for Diboll against Elkhart, while in turn the Jacks have failed to show that their pass defense is adequate to shoulder their past Garrison, Cushing and Timpon. The rough-style teams to be faced later in the year in District 22-A.

GARRISON LOOMS

Garrison this week was causing many observers to change their opinions as to the potential 'power' of this district. Timpon and Hemphill had earlier been spotted as the clubs to watch. Garrison throttled the Alto powerhouse, 13-6, two weeks ago. Last week Alto roared back to tie the all-powerful Woodville Eagles, 13-14. The Eagles are a Class AA outfit this year. This naturally gives Garrison a moral victory and turns coaches' heads to the Diboll-Garrison struggle calendared for Diboll the week following our homecoming game.

Shelbyville was beaten by the Timpon team last Friday, 7-0, proving that they will be tough a Diboll's Homecoming opponent Sept. 28.

CHESTER FRIDAY

Getting down to the business at hand, Diboll tackles the Chester Yellowjackets here tomorrow night. Contrary to an opinion voiced by many that Diboll could easily 'sew-up' Colmesneil and Chester, one finds that the visiting Yellowjackets have beaten Diboll four of the seven times the two teams have met. Here is the record, with the Diboll score listed first:

- 1948-7-7 (tie)
- 1949-0-12;
- 1950-7-13;
- 1952-19-13;
- 1953-0-21 (Diboll lost ten straight that year);
- 1954-6-32;
- 1955-41-0.

Forgetting the scores, we find that the only good games the Jacks have played the Chester team were in 1948 and 1955. Chester surprised almost everyone by taking Corrigan last week 7-0. Needless to say, tomorrow's game will not be a pushover, no matter what kind of backfield Coach DuBose sends into battle.

LITTLE OVER CONFIDENT

Apparently DuBose's charges entered the Colmesneil fracas a little over-confident. Little else could be said that would explain last Friday's result. They definitely experienced an 'off' night and were possibly looking forward to the Shelbyville game and forgetting the Colmesneil, and Chester affairs. Certainly

Lions Zone Meet Held Wednesday

A zone meeting of the Lions Club from Diboll, Huntington, Lufkin, and Crockett was held at The Pine Bough Restaurant here last Wednesday evening. Ralph Magill, chairman of Zone 8, presided at the meeting which was also attended by district deputy Lions, governor E. A. Stanfield of Lufkin.

'Hidden Values' In Shopping Pointed Out By Merchants

The 'Hidden Values' in your shopping and mine are pointed out in this week's full page ad sponsored by twenty Diboll retail merchants and businessmen.

These merchants, ever-conscious of the debt they owe to the community in which they live, attempt to point out in the ad how the certain percent of a dollar spent in their store goes to this community.

"Nobody can tell the public where to trade," the sponsors agree, "but we can stress the 'hidden values', none of which will ever be found in purchases made in other communities."

Taylor Quits Post Open Own Garage

J D Taylor, mechanic at A. Porter and Sons garage for the past three and one half years, this week announced that he has resigned his job there and will go into business for himself. Before going to work at Porters in April, 1953, Mr. Taylor was employed by Southern Pine.

Taylor's new garage will probably be open in about three weeks. Located across the street from his present job, the garage will be leased from the building which is to house Lefty Vaughn's new combination grocery-service-station.

The mechanic said he would issue a statement to his customers as to the opening date of his new business.

6 Towns Represented At WSCS Meeting

Zone 2 of the Woman's Society of Christian Service met at the Diboll church Tuesday September 11 at 9 a.m. Instructions for the year's work were discussed.

Lunch was served to over fifty women, assembled from Keltys, Lufkin, Forest Park, Bethlehem, Burke and Corrigan.

'Day For Every Dibollian' Says Committee; 2 Parks Will Be Used

Diboll Day is for every Dibollian. This was the gist of the decision of the Diboll Boosters Club Steering Committee which met for final formulation on the plans Friday.

It was agreed after full discussion with Willie Massey, the chairman of the Negro Diboll Day committee that both parks would be used. Pine Grove Park east of town would be the location for the crowning of the Diboll white queen and the Walter Allen Park on the south of town would be used for the crowning of the bronze queen. The barbeque will be divided between the two parks and concessions will be open adjacent to both parks.

The use of both parks was at the suggestion of the Negro committee and over ruled a prior decision of the Diboll Boosters all ceremonies would take place in the Pine Grove Park near Diboll High School.

All other plans will be along the lines previously set down. Diboll has always been a town friendly, where activities centered around the home and the neighborhood, according to Calvin

Lawrence, chairman of the local Steering Committee. "Diboll Day is a day of friendship and its whole purpose is to express the good spirits and good will of this entire community," according to Lawrence.

Massey, when asked why he thought that use of both parks was a good idea, stated, "We think we will make more money for the Diboll Youth Fund that way."

Final program plans will be announced in the next few days, according to Shirley Daniel, the chairman of the program committee.

NO FAMILY AIRPLANE YET

Progress toward greater use of the air, by private aircraft, is slower than many predicted immediately after World War II. In fact, it is moving forward at a snail's pace and there is no private airplane on the market today to meet the needs of the average family — and within his financial capabilities.

For the man or woman who wants a plane to carry his family — up to five or six people, for example, as with a car — there is no modern economical airplane on the market today — even in the United States.

To those who wonder why a more people do not fly, this is the answer. There isn't anything suitable on the market. To get a plane which would haul the load of the average low-priced automobile would cost $40,000 or $50,000 or more.

Naturally, this is in the world of dreams for most people and so flying progress crawls along. To get an all-metal four-passenger plane, which can weather tough flying conditions and be operated on instruments, one would have to pay over $20,000 — or buy a second-hand plane for a little less than half the cost of the new one. This is still too much.

Passenger aircraft, with very little luggage-carrying capability thrown in, the owner must plunk out $5,000 or $6,000. He might get a good second fabric-covered four-seater for about half that, or about what he would pay for a new, six-passenger automobile.

Naturally, since this fabric-covered aircraft is not the toughest in the world, and not the fastest either, only a limited number of citizens are willing to plunk out the money to purchase it, and keep it up, when it can carry a maximum of four persons and very little else. Obviously, it can handle only the smallest of families for such purposes as vacation trips, etc.

Flying progress could be greatly speeded up if the manufacturers of private aircraft could ever produce an adequate passenger, metal aircraft, with adequate baggage facilities.

This seems to be a long way off in the future — because the $40,000 figure would have to be cut down to about $5,000 — to create a mass market.

If the manufacturers had the mass market now, they could probably hit on a design and mass-produce such a plane surprisingly cheaper. Gut without it, they build small quantities of private aircraft, make good unit profits, and let it go at that. It's the vicious circle all over again. No mass market, no cheap private aircraft with features needed. No such aircraft, no mass market.

That's about where we stood when the war ended, eleven years ago.

STEEL EXPANSION TROUBLES

The threat of government controls over steel consumption is causing real concern in Washington. This has resulted from a huge increase in the demand for steel — both actual and prospective — for the highway program, merchant marine expansion, school construction and other uses in a booming economy.

Financing additional expansion of steel production facilities requires vast capital, and the normal capital markets are apparently not ready to gamble on investment of huge sums under normal depreciation rates.

As one steel official put it: "A blast furnace cost us $2 million in 1943. Last year, our engineers estimated that it would cost us $5 million to replace it. This is only a 12-year interval instead of the usual 20 — or 30-year write-off."

So steel companies are urging the Office of Defense Mobilization to grant applications or rapid tax amortization. They say this is essential — and they are puzzled as to why ODM Director Fleming has shut off the use of rapid tax amortization to aid in carrying out some of the proposed plant expansion programs. Rapid tax amortization has been approved time and time again by Congress.

Several steel concerns have filed applications with ODM in the hope of getting tax depreciation benefits on expansion of

by Bob Bartos
Prominent Dog Authority

They say that when a dog bites a man it isn't news.

That may well be, but to the person who's just been bitten, it's a painful experience. And perhaps the pain could have been avoided with a little beforehand knowledge of the animal and a few simple "do's" and "don'ts."

A basic rule is this: never threaten a dog, especially a big one, with a stick or any other

Dog of the Week: DALMATIAN

Non-sporting. Average weight: 45 pounds. Height at shoulder: 21 inches. Coat: short, dense, sleek, glossy, and hard textured. Color: pure white with round black or brown spots. The spots should not run together, but should be well defined and range in size from a dime to a half-dollar.

object when he is close by and facing you. This will probably make him even more serious in his attack.

In such cases stand perfectly still and quietly but firmly scold the dog. If the tone of your voice makes him stop, repeat the scolding and take one or two steps toward him. Once he turns, you can toss a stick at his heels to further discourage him.

Some families complain that their dogs become overly rough while "playing." Usually this stems from puppyhood, when the young dog didn't know the strength of his own jaws. But fullgrown, he does know, and all play should stop immediately when the playful "nips" become painful. He should be reprimanded on the spot.

Probably the most common dog vs. man episode is when the mailman or milkman arrives and your pet, ready to defend the house, suddenly wages battle. Here's one method to use in acquainting your dog with the frequent visitors, like the mailman.

Ask the postman to sit down on the steps, greet the dog by name and give him a biscuit or piece of candy. Be sure that a member of the family is on hand during this period to show open friendliness to the visitor. Watch for the postman each day and repeat the performance until your dog has learned who the postman is.

Feeding Tip: Milk is just as good for dogs as meat. However, he must have three times as much milk by weight to produce the same nutritional effect, because meat contains 800 calories per pound and milk has 250 per pint. A top-quality dog food, such as Friskies, supplies all the dog's nutritional requirements.

production facilities at a proposed cost of nearly $275 million.

SPECIAL EDITORIALS
On Teaching History

There are several states, including the Senate of Illinois, which, by legislation, require all public schools and other educational institutions supported by public funds, to teach United States history and the principles of representative government.

While it is obvious that the teaching of history varies in many respects, dependent upon the attitude of the teacher, there is much to be said in favor of requiring that the history of our nation be studied. Certainly, all Americans should know the history of their country and understand the voting system that enables them to elect their leaders.

The purpose of instructing pupils in the history of this country is to enable them to be effective and intelligent citizens. This means that they should be taught both sides of controversial issues, whether they affect economics, politics or society.

We believe that the young people of our nation should have a knowledge of our country's "glorious" history, but we believe just as strongly, that they should have a thorough understanding of the episodes which are not quite so glorious. Like every other nation we must admit, we have some mistakes on our record and it is important that these be studied, understood and, if possible, avoided in the future.

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa:—

I have a chance to work in two places. One is a full time job

IS WORRY A CAUSE OF DEATH?

Thousands of Americans die every year from heart disease, or cerebral hemorrhages, both of which are included in the so-called diseases of civilization.

The belief exists that nervousness tension and the fast tempo of modern life are responsible for the high blood pressure that often forecasts the end of individual existence.

Some years ago, Dr. William H. Molden, while exploring Brazil, found an Indian tribe in which these diseases were unknown. He attributed this to the fact that the Indians are not in contact with civilization and, therefore, "do not worry."

There is a tendency on the part of some to believe that complete relaxation of the body in rest will tend to prevent the development of high blood pressure. This includes complete mental relaxation, which is difficult for many individuals. The brain, which has been busy for hours, finds many things "to think about" and this mental activity often prevents sound sleep.

About the best answer to the problem, as we see it, is the development of an individual philosophy of life, including a religious faith, which will bring the individual into harmony with his environment and the higher principals which should govern all human life.

and I will make good money. The other is a part time job of only a few hours each morning which of course does not pay me anything like what the other one does.

Now the only reason I hesitate over the choice is because I have two children, who go to school, one is eight and the other is ten. If I work all day they will roam around wherever they please after school and I am trying to decide whether the extra money — which will certainly come in handy for all of us as my husband has never made enough to give us what we need — will outweigh the disadvantage of me being away from home when the children get there. What would you advise me to do?

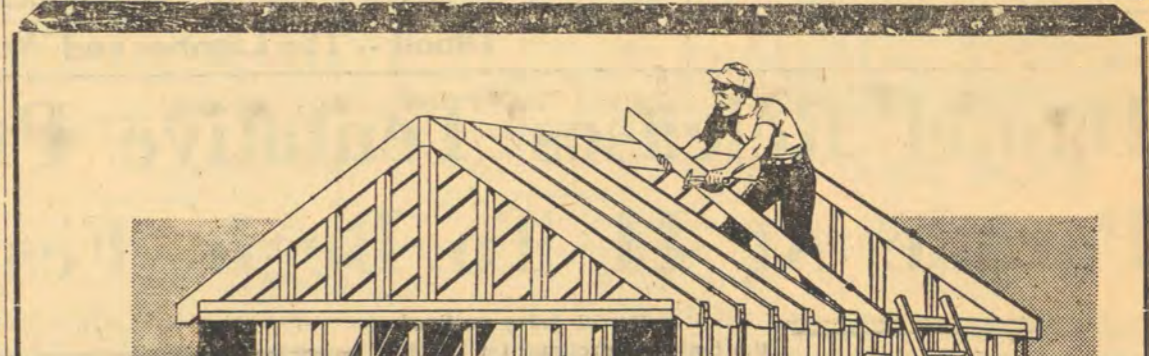

MOTHER — N. Y.

ANSWER:

The ability to make big money now-a-days by women who have never had such a chance before seems almost to be too good to be true. Lots of them throw down the home work and jump into a pair of overalls and are off to the plant without giving the problem any further consideration. The only thing they see is the new rug, new home, new car, a college education for junior and all the things they had just about given up. All this is very fine if these things can be had without paying too great a price and sometimes they can if we have an interested relative or a good, capable woman who will carry on the home life and take care of the children. Of course, no one can really take mother's place if she is the kind of mother she ought to be but a good substitute can help a lots. She can see that the family has a comfortable clean home in which to live, that they have good nourishing food and she can keep an eye on the children's companions and the kind of recreation they enjoy.

But if mother goes to work — unnecessarily — and by doing so neglects her children and her home, the price she pays is then

"Shown on the front cover of Trans-Texas schedule folders are two views of the beautiful Pineywoods section of Texas — at the top, boating scene along one of the several rivers of Ange-lina County — below, a view of the Southern Pine Lumber Com-pany mill and affiliated indus-tries in Diboll, which boasts the largest sawmill in the South."

These words came from Hil-ton Quine, local manager of Trans-Texas Airways.

Over 15,000 folders were mailed all over the United States to other airlines and individuals connected with the air transpor-tation industry. A schedu folder is placed in every seat of T TA airliners. Information and pictures for the folder were made available to the airline by the local Chamber of Commerce Mr. Quine said.

Steering Committee Closes Book On Parade Entries

The Booster Club steering com-mittee for Diboll Day said today that last entries for the Sept. 29th parade were accepted and that the program book was offi-cially closed, effective yesterday Sept. 19.

The parade committee, which has lined up no less than 12 bands and dozens of floats, nov-elities and animal arrangements set the closing date at a meet-ing held last week. The rough spots in the program can now be ironed out without fear of a last minute mix-up, said com-mitteeman Bennie Rector.

Careers for Your Child

AERONAUTICAL ENGINEERS By Igor Sikorsky

Diboll Folks . . .

Jimmy Bell is in town following his discharge from U S Air Force on Sept. 1. Jim, a stout 175 pound tackle of the Lumberjacks six seasons hence, says he will probably start to work for Southland Paper Mills in Lufkin in latter part of this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm (Buster) Durham visited here last weekend with his mother. They now reside in Houston.

Cloyce Fears visited with his Southern Pine friends Saturday. He and his new bride will enroll for fall classes at the University of Texas this week.

Mrs. W F Purdy subscribed for The N-B to be sent her daughter in McAllen, Mrs. Neil Hector.

Many residents on rural rts. are taking advantage of the new Sept. subscription price to the N-B of only $1 per year. Sub. E. G. Prud'homme of Pine-land was in Diboll Saturday for regular Southern Pine staff meeting.

John Lea of Diboll Department Store reports that a buyer for the store has just returned from New York where he was engaged in buying fall fashions in ladies ready-to-wear. Mr. Louis Harris, partner in the local store, said that latest fall creations would be arriving soon as a result of the recent trip.

Other information from John Lea reveals that Mrs. Virginia Wimp will no longer be with the store, due to recent doctor's orders. Mrs. Wimp has been with the store for the past five years. She will be replaced by Mrs. R. A. Clover who has worked for Mr. Lea before. Another employee is Mrs. D. B. Matthews who will handle ladies wearing apparel.

Julius Bird, manager of The Pine Bough, returned today from a school on management, held at Oklahoma A and M in Stillwater, Okla. Mr. Bird flew to Stillwater Monday for the four day session.

Mrs. Bob York returned last week from brief visits with relatives in Oklahoma and Louisiana.

Supporting Your Town

Merchants who do not advertise are invited to read the following from the American Bankers Magazine, as it might let you have a new slant on business, your own business, as well as the matter of the building of your own town.

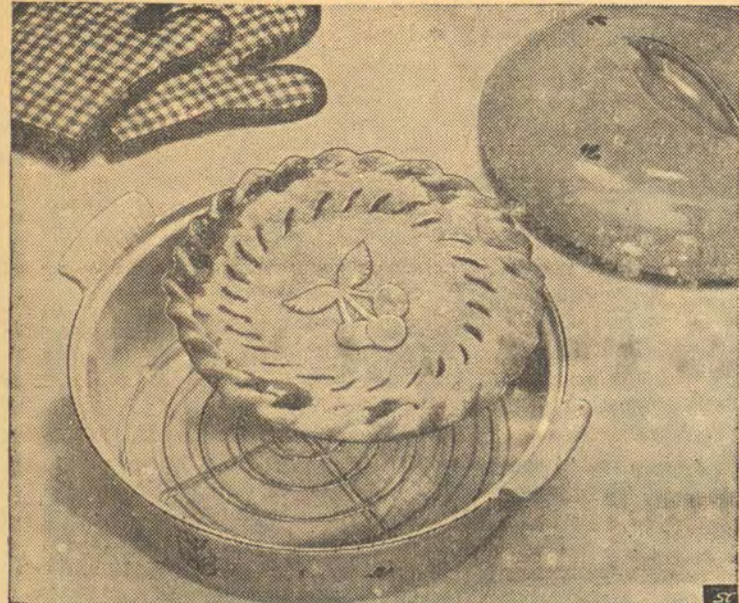

"No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. . . This does not mean you should have a . . . whole, half or even a quarter page ad in each issue of the paper, but your name and business should be mentioned, if you do not use more than a two-line space.

"A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a town by looking at the paper. The man who does not advertise is doing an injustice to himself and the town. The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to town, but refuses advertisement of his own, is not a valuable addition to any town. The life of a town depends on the live, wide-awake and liberal advertising business man."

Hot Weather Pie

Did you ever bake a pie on top of the stove? Well, you can! No need to deny your family this favorite dessert because you don't want to use the oven in hot weather. Baked in your Dutch oven on top of the stove, a pie will be just as deliciously flaky, just as golden brown and have the same good baked taste as one baked in the more usual way. Place a trivet or small cake rack on the bottom of the Dutch oven, directs the Crisco Kitchens, and put your pie pan on that. Cover and bake. If you use a glass cover you can check its doneness as it bakes. Try it with this recipe. Using this vegetable shortening and this method you'll have a failure-proof crust, and everyone knows a flaky crust is the real test of a good pie.

CHERRY PIE

(8 inch—2 crust pie)

Pastry:
2 cups sifted enriched flour
3/4 cup Crisco
1 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons water

With pastry blender or two knives, cut Crisco into flour and salt until mixture is fine and evenly mixed—about the size of coarse corn meal.

Sprinkle water over mixture, a spoonful at a time, tossing with a fork until it begins to hold into a ball. With hands, work pastry until all particles hold together and leave bowl clean. Divide pastry into two parts. On lightly floured surface, using light, short strokes, roll dough into circle. Line pie plate with pastry and trim even with plate.

Cherry Filling:
4 cups fresh pitted cherries
11/2 cups sugar
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Combine cherries with sugar, flour, cornstarch, salt and lemon juice.

Place in pastry lined plate. Top with pastry which has had small steam vents pricked in the top. Trim edges to 1/2 inch beyond the edge of plate. Fold edge under, seal and flute with fingers or a fork.

Place pie on trivet or small cake rack in Dutch oven over medium heat. Cover, and bake 1 hour and 15 minutes or until done.

Christians Are Devoted To Restoration Of New Testament Christianity

The Church of Christ Speaks

This is the Bible story of a virtuous and pious man who was a sinner in need of the forgiveness that Christ provides in his redemptive love and atoning sacrifice.

These are the good deeds and fine characteristics that the Lord recognized in Cornelius: (1) A devout man who feared God. (2) A man who exercised a godly influence over his family: (A) A man who gave much alms to the people; (4) A man who prayed to God always; (5) A man whose prayers and alms went up as a memorial before God (Acts 10:2-4).

Why did God say to such a man: "Send to Joppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter; who shall tell thee words, whereby thou and all thy household shall be saved." (Acts 11:13-14) Cornelius was a superior man. He was a good man, but he was lost, as every sinner is, without a Savior. We have no doubt that Cornelius would have been the last person to boast of his own righteousness and self-sufficiency. He wanted a good conscience and a sense of acceptance with God. The Lord has promised that those who seek shall find, and that to those who knock the door will be opened (Matthew 7:8). Cornelius, rather than boasting his own merit, recognized that "All have sinned, and fallen short of the glory of God" (Romans 3:23), and the "The wages of sin is death" (Romans 6:23). "If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us." (I John 1:8).

This case of conversion shows that even morally good people and devoutly religious people are not able to reach heaven without a Savior's help. Jesus said: "I am the way, the truth, and the life; no man cometh unto the Father, but by me." (John 14:6).

Many a good person has been lost trusting in his own righteousness and making the fatal mistake of measuring himself by other human beings (Romans 10:3.) Jesus Christ is the "full-grown man," and "all who compare with the 'measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ'" (Ephesians 4:13) are overwhelmed with the realization of their own sinfulness and cry out with Simon Peter: "Lord, I am a sinful man." Peace of mind follows when we accept the gospel which announces the good news that we are "justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus: Whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousness for the remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God" (Romans 3:24-25).

To all moral and devout people who trust in their own righteousness for final approval with God, we submit the words of Paul which apply to all men alike, including Cornelius: "If any man thinketh that he whereof he might trust in the flesh, I more — as touching the law, a Pharisee — touching the righteousness which is in the law, blameless" (Philippians 3:4-6).

The conversion of Cornelius also serves as a warning to all who say that their religion is found in the moral code: "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you" This, indeed, is the great moral code of the way of Jesus, but it is not the whole plan of salvation from sin. A man who thinks that he is good is deluded and deceptive.

God hates sin because he loves the sinner. He hates sin because it separates us from himself, alienating our affections and estranging our relation to him. Cornelius was no exception to the rule. God is as concerned about the sins of good men as he is of those of the wicked and abominable. Jesus died for Cornelius. Cornelius was doing the best he could, but he was hindered by his own imperfections and the imperfections of a religion that offered no perfect sacrifice for sins (Read Hebrews: 10:4, 10, 17-18).

In Christ he found a new and better covenant established upon better promises (Hebrews 8:6). He was seeking goodly pearls and found the pearl of great price which he cherished so much that he counted his own worth as nothing in order to obtain it. When Cornelius denied himself in accepting Christ, he

World's Best-Fed Nation Could Do Better, Says Dr. Parran

Dr. Thomas Parran

UNIVERSITY PARK, PA.—Average nutrition, even in the world's best-fed nation, the U.S.A., is not good enough, said a former Surgeon General of the U.S. Public Health Service. We should strive for the optimum in nutrition, he said, through an aggressive, positive, direct campaign of education.

The speaker, Dr. Thomas Parran, urged his audience of agricultural writers to educate their readers in health as well as in farming methods. He was the guest speaker at a recent luncheon, during the 40th annual convention of the American Association of Agricultural College Editors, held at University Park. More than 300 guests attended.

Dr. Parran, who held the nation's top medical post from 1936 to 1948, was presented by the Consumer Service Department of the American Institute of Baking, Chicago, which sponsored the luncheon. The event was one of several special observances marking the fifteenth anniversary of the enrichment of bread with vitamins and minerals.

Dr. Parran was instrumental in the adoption of bread and flour enrichment, and he told his listeners some of the history of the program and the reasons for its adoption. He and Dr. M. L. Wilson, then of the Department of Agriculture, were members of a government Nutrition Committee formed to suggest ways in which the American populace could attain a better physical condition as part of the national defense effort. The two called a meeting in 1941 of bakers, millers, nutrition scientists, and government officials, at which the groundwork was laid for getting a voluntary enrichment program underway.

"During the 15 years which have elapsed since 1941 a tremendous change has occurred in did the best thing that a good man could do.

The Jews were unwilling to offer gospel privileges to Gentiles. God had told Peter not to call the Gentiles "unclean" (Acts 10:13-15). But not until the Spirit poured out on Cornelius and those with him, did Peter and the Jews understand (Acts 10:34-35), whereupon Peter exclaimed: "Who can forbid water that these should be baptized, which have received the Holy Spirit as well as we? And he commanded them to be baptized in the name of the Lord" (10:47-48).

Why was Cornelius and his family baptized? The scriptures provide the answer: "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved" (Mark 16:16) "Arise and be baptized and wash away thy sins, calling on the name of the Lord" (Acts 22:16); "Repent and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of your sins" (Acts 2:38); "For as many of us as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ" (Galatians 3:27).

20th Century Christian, Carl Spain.

Village Furniture Expands Operations

Village Furniture Co. last week expanded its operations in the nearby town of Corrigan, when Bob Scoggin announced the acquisition of modern housing facilities there. The branch store formerly was housed in a much smaller building in the west section of the business district.

The larger and more modern building, formerly belonging to Eden's Furniture and Appliance, is located adjacent to the bank in Corrigan.

Scoggin said that the new store would look much the same as his store in Diboll, in that the latest furniture designs would be displayed.

The Corrigan store opened for business Monday, Sept. 10.

Your Home Business Firms are THE HIGHEST BIDDERS
for Your Shopping Dollar

Here are the facts to prove it...

Actually . . . no matter where you live . . . nobody . . . and that means NOBODY . . . can give you more for your dollar than your own home business firms. Let's look at the reason for this advantageous . . . to you . . . situation:

ANY MERCHANT . . . anywhere . . . is ordinarily going to sell goods for some more than he pays for them.

ON AN AVERAGE . . . when you spend a dollar in any retail store . . . here or anywhere else . . . about 70 cents of it pays for GOODS, and about 30 cents goes for rent, taxes, donations, hired help, etc., and a few cents (the national average is about 5 cents) pays the proprietor for his work, and for his investment in goods and equipment, credit losses, etc.

NOW . . . when you spend your dollar at home, you get the same 70 cents worth of merchandise that you would get for it anywhere else.

AND THE OTHER 30 CENTS stays here too, to help you pay for schools, churches, roads and streets; to vitalize the community so your property . . . or your job . . . is worth more; to keep more people here to share civic work and expense, and to serve YOU when you sometimes direly need their knowledge and their skills.

ONLY when you buy in YOUR OWN HOME community do you get back most of this 30-cent retail handling charge . . . and often a great deal more, as your job or your business prospers and your social life broadens with the growth of the entire community.

It Pays to Buy
 where You Live

It was not the lack of work, since it appeared that Coaches DuBose and Young worked the boys harder last week than they did prior to the Elkhart operation.

PICKING SCORE

The coach might shuffle his backfield, or he might choose another avenue of attack against Chester. But regardless of the offensive or defensive styles used tomorrow, or a month from now, the 1956 Lumberjacks will not get to scrape even the bottom of the victory barrel unless their spirit, which was so prevalent against Elkhart, is high and their attitude superior throughout the remainder of the season.

We'll stake our somewhat tarnished reputation of predicting on the fact that the Jacks have an unbeatable spirit and that it will be brilliantly on display for 48 minutes tomorrow night.

State Fair To Show Top Cattle Breeds

Well balanced snow herds of the finest quality, assuring a strong competition in all breeds, will fill all available stall space for the Livestock shows of the 1956 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 8-21. Livestock Manager Ray W. Wilson has announced.

The top show strings of breeding livestock from the Southwest Midwest and the deep South will be on hand.

A survey of early entries indicates nearly 2,000 head of beef and dairy cattle, sheep, swine and goats will compete in the fair's Pan-American Livestock Exposition.

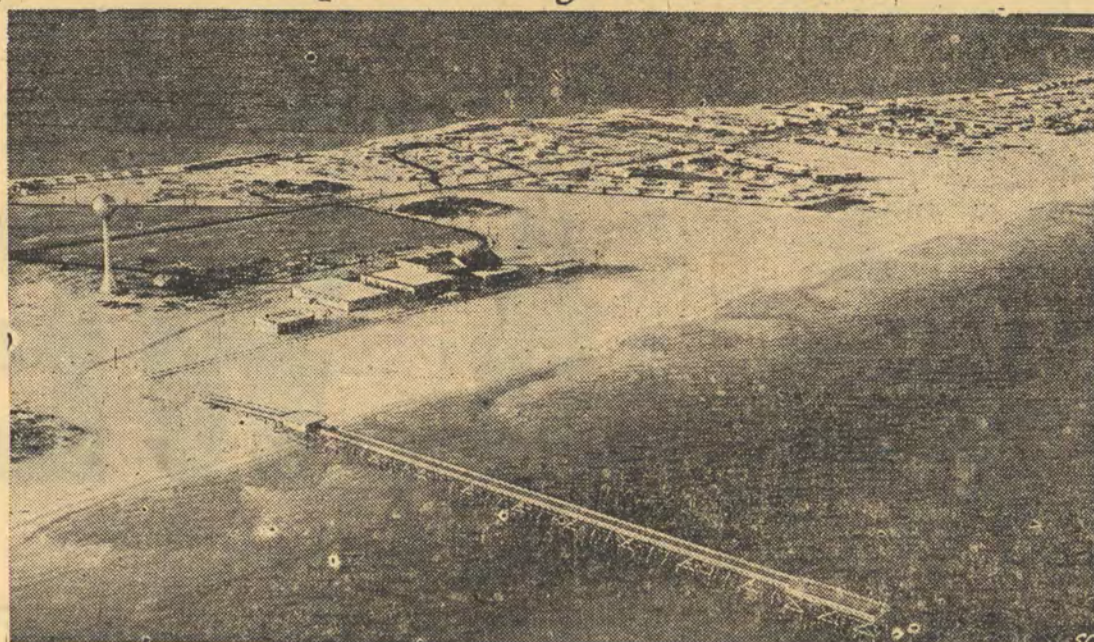

Entries have been received from Florida, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Colorado, Arkansas, Missouri, Wisconsin, Tennessee, Mississippi, Iowa and Kansas, as well as Texas.

Horse show entries for quarter horses, Palominos, Shetland ponies and the open cutting horse contest have not yet been compiled. Neither have entries for the junior livestock shows.

There will be horse shows all three weeks of the fair.

"Deep-Sea" Fishing On Terra Firma

PENSACOLA BEACH, Florida—Anglers at this West Florida year-round resort now catch deep-water specimens without getting the least bit seasick, since completion of the great pier in the Gulf of Mexico. In addition to this Gulf wharf, Pensacola Beach also has a free fishing pier on the other side of the island, in placid Santa Rosa Sound.

Autumn brings some of the best fishing of the year on semi-tropical Santa Rosa Island, where "October's bright blue weather" is ideal and where hay-fever sufferers find relief in the absence of pollen.

In the clear and balmy Gulf water many vacationers like the beauties in the lower photo find excitement, fun and healthful pastime in skin diving and sun bathing, too.

Although the Autumn and early Spring weather is excellent, Pensacola Beach motels and beach cottages offer reduced rates from Labor Day until May 15. The Santa Rosa Island Authority at Pensacola is responsible for this land of sand and sea, which was turned over to it by the U. S. Department of the Interior to be developed in the public interest.

STATE BAR ASSOCIATION

STATE BAR OF TEXAS By H. O. Payne

Frank W. Hustmyre of Orange heads a list of some 30 East and Southeast Texas lawyers who figure prominently in the administration of Newton Gresham of Houston, new president of the State Bar of Texas.

In addition to his duties as a member of the State Bar board of directors, elected by lawyers of the Second Congressional district, the Orange attorney has been named board advisor to the Committee on Administration of Justice, largest of State Bar committees, with 45 members. He also is an ex-officio member of two Grievance and two Grievance Prosecuting Committees, which investigate alleged professional misconduct of lawyers; and assist the State Bar general council with cases which come to trial.

The Administration of Justice group, which includes Ernest J. Browne of Beaumont; and James R. Cornelius of Lufkin, studies all questions in the field of jurisdiction and procedure in the courts to advance the science of jurisprudence. It conducts a continuing study of the rules of practice and procedure in civil actions, and cooperates with the Texas Supreme Court in recommending procedural changes.

The Grievance Committee, with jurisdiction in specified areas at either end of the 11-county district, include Bradford Pickett, Liberty; John D. Rienstra, Beaumont; Earl M. Black, Port Arthur; Terrell Buchanan, Silsbee; Frederic B. Trimble, Orange; R. C. Mussewhite, Lufkin; Tom Reavley, secretary of state, Jasper; E. J. McLeroy, Jr., Center; Charles S. McMillan, San Augustine; and Wendell H. Forse, Newton.

The Grievance Prosecuting Committee, covering the same areas, include S. P. Dunn, Orange; A. L. Bevil, Kountze; Tom Featherston, Port Arthur; John P. Blair, Beaumont; John Henry Minton, Hemphill; Edward P. Hughes, Jasper; and Ward R. Burke, Lufkin.

Other committee assignments are as follows: Federal Judiciary: Gilbert T. Adams, Beaumont.

Legal Aid: John D. Rienstra, Beaumont. Real Estate, Probate and Trust Law: Charles F. Heidrick, Beaumont; and Bradford Pickett, Liberty.

State Bar Rules: John P. Blair, Beaumont.

State Courts Housing: Bill Daniel, Liberty.

Traffic Regulations: Leonard F. Choate, Beaumont. Conference With Medical Profession: Joe H. Tonahill, Vice chairman, Beaumont.

Nuclear Energy: Major T. Bell, Beaumont, vice chairman.

Foster King says that he will entertain all visiting band directors at The Pine Bough on Diboll Day. So far, 12 bands will participate in the mammoth parade on Sept. 29, King said.

Be my guest for FOOTBALL GAMES on radio and live TV

Again this year the Humble Company will bring you radio broadcasts and live telecasts of college football games. Your host on these is your neighbor under the Humble sign. If you enjoy them, stop by to tell him that you do—he'll appreciate your friendly gesture.

Check the games you want to see or hear each week under the Humble sign in your neighborhood. They'll be posted, with station lists and game times, in the window.

Meanwhile, stop by and ask for a pocket-size Southwest Conference Schedule, and a windshield sticker in the colors of your favorite Southwest Conference School. No cost, no obligation.

Washington — If qualified persons do not register and vote they are not fulfilling their obligations as citizens.

So, if you have not registered or paid your poll tax, do so at once. For, if you do not vote, you will have no right to complain at the action — or inaction — of those elected to public office.

Your vote could be vitally important in deciding the outcome of elections. The voting — or non-voting — of only a small number of persons frequently has widespread effects.

For example, in the 1954 Congressional election only 34,000 votes represented the difference outside the South, between the Democratic and Republican total for House members. In this same election Senator Bender (R., Ohio) was elected by a margin of 6,041 votes — less than an average of one vote each precinct in the state. Senators O'Mahoney (D., Wyo.) won by 3,442 votes; Case (R., N. J.) by 3,370; Neuberger (D., Ore.) by 2,462; and Murry (D., Mont.) by 1,728.

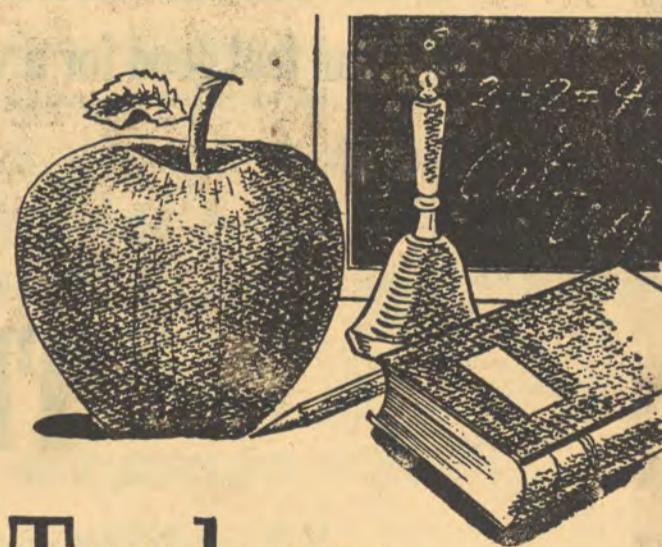

In 1952, President Eisenhower carried Tennessee by 2,437 votes and Adlai Stevenson led in Kentucky by only 700. The late Senator Taft (R., Ohio) was elected to the Senate in 1944 by fewer than 8,000 votes — less than one per precinct.

In 1950, Michigan elected Governor Williams, a Democrat, by 1,154 votes less than an average of one for each three precincts.

Recently Frank Church beat Glen Taylor by 200 votes for the Democratic Senatorial nomination in Idaho. And Lyndon Johnson of Texas the present Democratic leader, was elected to the Senate in 1949 by an 87-vote margin. This explains why his friends sometimes refer to him as "Landslide Lyndon."
