Deer Not Always Plentiful Here Says Mr. Minton

By LATANE TEMPLE

When deer season opens on November 16 hunters will find that deer are unusually numerous this year in the great East Texas forests between the Angelina River and the Neches woodmen report.

Old sportsmen recall that it was not always so.

One game conservationist who has been hunting the region for about three quarters of a century reports that as recently as 1913 you could "go from the Neches to the Angelina" and never see a deer track.

R. A. Minton, dear of Sportsmen-conservationists in the Angelina-Trinity County area writes;

"About April, 1913, Southern Pine Lumber Company employed Mr. J. J. Ray to start a ranch of cut-over lands now known as Boggy Slough Pasture, and he began immediately thereafter to fence several thousand acres and began to buy cattle and put them on it. He fenced what is now known as the 640 acre tract upon which the present club house is located with hog proof fencing so that he might acclimatize the new cattle brought in and have it suitable for separating the cows and calves. The remaining portion of the ranch was fenced with less than hog proof fencing.

"At that time I lived in Groveton and hunted deer with dogs (which was not then unlawful) and was fairly familiar with the game situation in Trinity County. George Shotwell, Calvin Mantooth, W. R. Miller and George Walker and others were residing in and around Lufkin and were great deer hunters and hunted in all the surrounding territory including Trinity County, and, so far as we know, there was only one doe and one fawn left in the county when Mr. Ray fenced these premises. She was located on what was then known as Bluff Prairie which includes the duck pond in front of the keepers house at Boggy Slough. The hunters ran her frequently and she soon found that by getting into the 640 acres which Mr. Ray had fenced with stock proof fencing that he would run the dogs off because he did not want them disturbing the stock in that pasture.

"Beginning at that time Southern Pine made it its policy to protect game in the Boggy Slough area, in order to restock the whole region.

"In the course of a few years the deer began to increase on the ranch from this beginning, and by 1921 they were numerous enough around the old club house at Boggy Slough that an employee of the Company was permitted to still hunt them and he killed two in the Fall of 1921 near his old club house site. Thereafter those who were skilled enough began to hunt them to some extent and they began to increase rapidly because there was ample cover and feed.

"In looking forward to next year, fans now can foresee a solid junior team with plenty of vim and experience, just bursting the seams of their shoulder pads with winning capabilities. Such definitely should be the case.

"On the other hand, experienced boys with ability will not help our cause in 1958 unless these same boys played inspired football. The will to win has made only several brief appearances among our boys this season, and fans on the Diboll side of the field are, in the past few weeks, beginning to wonder if we'll ever develop a good team here. Of course no one can answer such a question. Only time will tell.

"One thing is sure, all schools have 'dry' spells, when they can't produce a winning football team no matter what they do. In 1958, we'll have boys with capability and experience under a good coach. If they can't make the grade then . . . well, Diboll's fu-

HUNTERS PREVENT FOREST FIRES

Over 26 per cent of the forest wildfires in East Texas during 1956 were caused by non-sportsmen in pursuit of game. Exhibiting "what not to do" our non-sportsman, above, shows one of the many causes of forest fires — smoking game out of trees. A true hunter uses a gun, not matches, in his quest for game. He puts his camp or warming fires completely out before leaving. In addition, he crushes out his smokes and uses the ash tray in his vehicle. Above all, he knows that next year's hunting depends in part on this year's forest fire prevention.

"In the season of 1922, I began still hunting them myself and killed one on Boggy Slough Island and from that time on I have still hunted them from time to time and the one I killed last Fall makes a total of 20 that I have killed on the ranch during that time.

"Mr. Ray would never allow dogs to run deer inside the ranch premises but we had continuous trouble with dogs being permitted to run them on the outside and the deer would go into the ranch for cover and protection.

"By 1925 they had increased sufficiently that there were a great many trespassers entering the premises and slaughtering the deer so Southern Pine leased to the Game Department on March 25, 1926, for a period of 10 years, approximately 20,000 acres in Houston and Trinity Counties upon condition that the Game Commission would furnish sufficient patrolmen to care for the game. This did not work out so Southern Pine leased to J. W. Austin about 6,000 acres, being the upper end of what is now known as the Humble Club. He built a house and put other improvements thereon and has used it continuously, since and has handled it in a satisfactory manner.

"The game increased from scratch to about its present quantity between 1921 and 1925. In Boggy Slough the game increased until the brows, was exhausted and a great many of them died from starvation. They did not go out into adjacent territory because hunters with dogs continuously ran them back and they were herded, so to speak,

P-TA Slates Bake Sale On November 27

The Diboll P-TA will stage a Bake Sale in The Village all day Wednesday, Nov. 27. Mrs. Billy Jean Tucker announced this week.

About 40 pies and cakes will be sold under auspices of the Elementary School, with money going to the P-TA's general fund.

The sale, which will last from 8:30 a.m. until the goods are sold, has been set for this date so that housewives can purchase their Thanksgiving sweets instead of baking them, Mrs. Tucker said.

Miss Kelley Honored With Birthday Fete

Miss Carolyn Kelley of Diboll was honored with a birthday party on Nov. 9 at the Scout House by her mother and Mrs. R. B. McKinney.

Autumn leaves and big red apples laid in a candlelight setting made up the decorative theme of Fall.

The usual entertainment was carried throughout the party and refreshments were served to approximately fifty guests.

MONEY MAKES THE WORLD GO 'ROUND

By LEON HALE

(Editor's Note: The following article was written by the author several months ago for The Houston Post. It appears here with his consent, in the first of a series of articles to be carried from time to time by The News-Bulletin.)

A curiosity we have noticed in many Texas towns is that a lot of the rank and file citizens seem to resent in their midst the presence of a rich man. The attitude indicates that "there just ain't no justice, or old man so-and-so would have less money and I would have more."

Sometimes you would think it's a black sin to be financially successful.

Personally we could never see the logic in this. We always figured a guy with plenty of zeroes on the end of his back balance has gathered all these turnip greens because he is a little smarter or a little luckier and like as not a lot harder working than the next man.

And even if a man's gains are a trifle ill gotten, we never waste any time resenting the amount he has in his wallet, even though it is right and proper to oppose his methods.

More a rich man is very often a handy item to have around a community.

Some people can't help getting red around the neck when they see the local millionaire zipping

WE LOSE . . .

Fearless Guesser In Final Week Of Picks

After picking the games last week we checked up on the Diboll-Corrigan series, which dates back to 1958, and of which Corrigan has now won seven and Diboll three.

Diboll lost the first encounter in 1948, 14-0; then went on to lose 54-13 in 1951; 26-13 in 1952; 54-13 in 1953; 41-0 in 1954; 15-0 in 1956 and 33-0 in 1957.

The locals won contests played against the 'Dogs in 1949, 19-6; in 1950 by 14-12 and in 1955 by 39-8.

Anyway, we sincerely hoped our 13-12 prediction of Diboll over Corrigan last week would help the locals. It didn't and they lost, 33-0. We then picked Hemphill over Cushing by 45-6, which the Hornets bettered by 52-0. Our pick of Garrison over Joaquin by 39-13 wasn't bad enough as the final count was 56-6, favor Garrison.

The final week of action in 22-A has one good game on tap. The Corrigan-Timpson affair will be worth seeing, while Hemphill will further humiliate Diboll and Garrison will close out in a splash of power over Cushing.

OUR GUESSES:
Hemphill 45, D-boll 6
Timpson 13, Corrigan 7
Garrison 60, Cushing 0
DIST. 22-A

Team	Conf.	Sea.
Garrison	5-0	9-0
Hemphill	4-1	8-1

Lose To Corrigan

JACKS TACKLE HEMPHILL FRI.

By BETH DURHAM

Rapidly seeping deeper into the mire of another unsuccessful football season, Diboll's ambitious lumberjacks wade headlong into a hornet's nest at Hemphill Friday night in the final game of the 1957 season for both clubs.

Absorbing a 33-0 loss at the hands of tough Corrigan here Friday night, the Axemen ran their season's record to three wins and six losses.

Check Shows Charges Will Be Abolished

An article in last week's News-Bulletin concerning the impending telephone change-over caused conflicting reports to reach this office over the weekend.

Callers reminded us that the new telephone directories were out and that the toll charge from Diboll to Lufkin, and vice versa, would still be in effect after the changeover, which still is not complete.

A check with telephone authorities this week, however, bears out the article carried in this paper last week.

When the Diboll exchange unit of Lufkin Telephone Exchange is changed into service, probably before the end of this year, toll charges BOTH WAYS between Lufkin and Diboll WILL BE abolished.

about in his long black car or putting up a house, with six bath rooms.

"That guy," they will say, "in 1931 was washing dishes at the Etex Cafe. And now look at him, putting on the dog." Possibly they think he should give all his money to charity and go back to his old job at the Etex.

What they are forgetting is that every time a rich man buys a long black car or puts in an extra bathroom, he is turning loose of some cash which other alert citizens then have a chance to get hold of.

Personally we get a lot of satisfaction out of seeing a millionaire spend $85,000 for a nice yacht.

For then the boat dealer spreads his profit around to salesmen and carpenters and bookkeepers and whoever, and these go to the supermarket and buy grub, and the supermarket goes down to the paper and buys an ad, and the paper uses the money, or anyway part of it, to pay our own personal's salary.

And if enough millionaires keep buying yachts for $85,000, sooner or later we may even be able to loosen up the budget here around the house.

It is not a bad system at all, and we often wonder who figured it out. It works the same way with plumbers helpers and filing clerks, who should be glad there are plenty of citizens around with more money than plumbers' helpers and filing clerks, or else how would they ever get more than they already have?

It never bothers us one bit that when we spent the old salary, a lot of it goes right back in the millionaire's pocket, possibly the same sport who bought the yacht.

For if he collects enough of the old legal tender in this way, he may branch out and start buying who knows what . . . such as maybe even newspaper advertising . . . and as long as these pesos are kiting about over the community, all us tight-budgeted citizens have got a chance to capture a few of them.

The only rich man we can think of who should be considered a real liability to a town is one who stacks his cash up in vault and never spends any. We're told there are such guys, who open up the vault every day, salute the contents and laugh at the peasants toiling outside in the sun.

The least he could do, you would think, is dust off some of that long green and spend something so the rest of us could get a shot at it.

But the day we are really going to start worrying about rich men is the day when the country no longer has any.

You can sometimes hear dreamers talking of a society in which all hands have an equal round with more money than

This took place while the Hornets were downing hapless Cushing, 52-0, for their eighth win of the campaign. The hornets rolled over Diboll, 56-6, in a wild scoring contest played in Diboll last year.

Bulldogs Roll

Friday's game here with Corrigan was billed as a good one, prior to the 7:30 kickoff. The Bulldogs took a 6-0 first quarter lead, however, then increased it to 13-0 by halftime on touchdown runs by all-state halfback Buddy Chisolm and fullback Cockrell.

The shaky halftime lead kept a capacity crowd in their seats, even in wet and near-freezing weather. Diboll simply could not come back with any workable offense in the second half, however, and finally fell to superior numbers. Chisolm and Cockrell added another TD each and right half Pat Knox chipped in one to climax a 33-0 victory.

Erwin DuBois' backfield could not move against a light but effective Bulldog line. End Billy Frank Pate was finally moved to the backfield in the second half and the 165-pound junior promptly showed his mate how to move the ball. Diboll's other runners were ineffective, as was Quarterback J. R. Telford's passing attack.

Diboll finally mustered a short drive in the waning minutes on short heaves from next year's quarterback Bobby Ramsey to end W. L. Miller, interspersed with line plunges by Pate. The drive was halted on an interception by the defense-minded Bulldogs on the 30, however.

Squires Good

End Robert Squires was Diboll's most effective lad on defense. Otherwise, Jack Forwards could not wedge out Bulldog linemen either on offense or defense. Squires has three more years to play with the locals.

Diboll now has scored 97 points on nine opponents, while allowing 255 tallies. This is the district's second worst defense. Last place Cushing, loser in nine starts, has scored 31 points while allowing 263.

The locals were constantly in hot water Friday night because of four bad punts from the toe of W. L. Miller, who has until now been one of the best kickers in Dist. 22-A. None of the four boots carried over 15 yards.

Look to 1958

In playing the Hemphill Hornets tomorrow night, Diboll will have everything to gain and nothing to lose. They haven't the defense to control the Hornets, who own the best offensive record in the Pineywoods Area with 274 points scored against nine opponents.

Diboll's only hope is to field an offensive attack and make their best possible showing in this manner. Hemphill, on the other hand, will be trying to raise their offensive lead with a brilliant finish over the Lumberjacks.

Mearwhile, local fans now are peering timidly toward the 1958 campaign, when Diboll will field a team composed mostly of juniors. Nineteen boys from this year's squad return for action next year.

A contract was let in Diboll this week for the construction of two identical swimming pools, according to an announcement by Carrol Allen, chairman of the Diboll Booster Pool Committee.

Each pool will be 45x75 feet and will have a complete water change every eight hours. They will be equipped with underwater lights and chrome fittings. Each will have a high diving board and low diving board and automatic skimmers. The racing lanes will also be a feature.

One of the pools will be located in the park on the southwestern edge of Diboll and the other will be in the park on the southwestern edge. Funds for construction of the pools according to Allen are being raised by Diboll Day activities and by individual pledges. Although sufficient money has been raised and pledged to make commencement of the pools possible, additional funds will be required.

The pool's according to Calvin Lawrence, new president of the Diboll Booster Club, are primarily to furnish recreational facilities for the young people of Diboll.

"Every Diboll Booster is a solicitor for pledges and contributions to the two pools," says Lawrence.

Carlin Pool, Inc. of Dallas were the successful bidders. Construction crews have already begun to arrive and commence work.

Lawrence New Head Of Booster Club

Calvin Lawrence was elected president of the Diboll Booster Club at its regular Thursday meeting this week. He takes over from Ralph Magill who received a standing vote of thanks for the achievements of the club during his term of office.

Ele Baggett was elected vice-president and Leo Coady secretary-treasurer succeeding Calvin Lawrence and Lamar Collins.

Lamar Collins gave the final report on the Diboll Day fund-raising activities which will help build two Diboll swimming pools. Diboll Day, 1957 was reported to have netted for Diboll youth activities $6,551.23.

STOVALL CREEK PHILOSOPHER

Stovall Creek Philosopher Not Worried By Threat Of Unseen

(Editor's note: The Stovall Creek Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Stovall Creek is unworried by the latest development of science, his letter this week indicates. However he's probably not even worried by some of the earlier developments either.)

Dear editor: Some people hunt so hard to find something to worry about you figure they'd be worried sick if they didn't have anything to worry about.

For instance, I was reading in a newspaper last night while most of my neighbors were out looking up at the sky worrying about Sputnik, where science has discovered it can flash a message on television screen so fast the eye can't consciously see it, yet it gets through to the brain and registers there.

Now this seems like a harmless enough discovery, but right off a lot of people in Washington began worrying about it, and some of them are now proposing a law against the thing. They say it could be a wicked thing; for example, politicians could flash their name on TV screens so often voters would have an unconscious urge to vote for them. Advertisers, they say, could flash their messages across so stealthily everybody would be buying their product and not know why.

Well, now, I'll tell you. This thing doesn't worry me. Take politicians. I don't care how often I read some politician's names, consciously or unconsciously, I still wouldn't vote for em. Seeing a man's name over and over isn't necessarily the way to get him elected. Sometimes it's the way to get him defeated. Ever before science developed its unseen television message, candidates were trying this by tacking posters on telephone poles and fence posts, but it didn't follow that the man with the most posters won.

Now with advertising messages on television screens, I'll tell you, if advertisers can figure out a way to get their message across without interrupting the program and without being seen, I believe a lot of people would be in favor of it, although of course I recognize that there are people who'd be in favor also of running the programs off in that fashion also.

SECRET STUDY PROPOSED Supporters of the crime study commission bill were dismayed at the turn it took in the House.

Before passage, the House put in a provision that the commission's sessions should be behind closed doors. It also gave it no power to subpoena witnesses.

If science can get to the point where politicians can speak for an hour on television and not be consciously seen, you'll find a lot of people endorsing the idea. In fact, if they can enlarge this whole idea, and get things to where my wife can just flash her instructions to me, without me being aware of em, I'll settle for that and let the Russians have outer space.

Your faithfully, J. A.

Safe and "Soundless" Play Tools

A delightful new educational toy has been developed by Transogram which teaches pre-schoolers co-ordination and design through creative, self-entertaining play. Made of safe polyethylene plastic, "Play Tools" are a complete set of bright colored tools and implements with special flexible strips for arranging imaginative patterns on a design board. The board is constructed on the same principle as a peg board into which the plastic nails, screws, gears, etc., can be pounded or screwed, and later removed. All parts are harmless and washable, and offer a child a perfect outlet for self expression and releasing energy. Available in $2.00 and $3.00 sizes at all toy counters.

PICKING A HEALTHY PUPPY

by Dr. E. M. Glidow Director, Friskies Research Kennels

When you set out to buy that Christmas puppy, it's almost impossible to predict what that little guy will look like when he grows up. But if you've raised a dog from puphood you'll love him whether or not he's a raving beauty.

If you want to know what he will look like when full grown, buy a purebred dog which will conform to his breed's standard. It's also difficult to tell what the state of his health will be. By close examination, though, you can tell something about his immediate health. Have the pup's temperature taken in your presence. If it's above 102° there's something wrong. There's also something wrong if his eyes and nose run, or if he coughs or has diarrhea. If he's generally listless and dull-eyed, try not to fall for him out of pity, as he's not in the pink of condition.

If he has patches on his coat it may mean mange, ring-worm or eczema. If he has a rash on his tummy or the insides of his legs, he may have eczema or one of the virus diseases of dogs.

If his legs are misshapen and he is tender on his feet he may have rickets.

The inside of the ears should be clean and smooth and free of inflammation. Teeth should be white and the gums clean and firm.

If his tummy is abnormally large, especially if the hair coat is dull, it may indicate worms.

Feeding Tip: All puppies need vitamin D for the sake of good strong teeth. By feeding your puppy a top-quality prepared dog food, such as Friskies, you're certain he's getting his needed quota of this important vitamin.

Freedom of the Press, Here and Now

Everywhere that a tyrant's heel has ground most brutally, there has sprung up an "underground" movement. And its heart always is a printing press. For the urge that dwells deep in a freedom-loving people to know the truth is hard to kill. In fact it cannot be killed—not even by the best-organized despotism in history.

The many stories of underground presses that have come down through the ages of trial and error by many dictators is an inspiration to the men and women of America's press.

We know that the truth can actually be printed and circulated under the very heel of a tyrant's boot. But a far better way of keeping people informed is through their own free press which operates not in some dark cellar, but on main street, right next door to the grocer, the postoffice, the drug store.  To preserve that freedom is the first obligation of the American people and the American Press. It is our only hope of maintaining our other cherished freedoms.

on Southern Pine's protected area.

Sometime about 1935 a substantial trespassing law was passed. Also, about this period there began an effort to educate the outside public to the advisability of giving some protection to the game and it began to increase on the outside, and as it did, more of the public saw the light and more protection has been given so that by now the overflow from the ranch has gone down the River as far as Evedale and Silsbee, as far westward as the Trinity River and eastward into Nacogdoches County and up the Atoyac River for some distance.

The deer population is so great now, according to Minton, that it needs a State sponsored program to reduce the doe population.

BETTER SCHOOLS — AND YOU

by HENRY TOY, Jr., President National Citizens Council for Better Schools

HOW TO STRETCH A TEACHER

Some rainy night when the whole family's home, you might try a new parlor game on them. Have everybody think of all the items in your home that simply didn't exist 25 years ago. There'll be television, of course, and the ladies' nylon, and the home freezer and the pink electric light. There'll also be all the prefabricated things and synthetic materials. Chances are you'll find quite a list right in your own house.

Whatever else went into the manufacturing of those items, there was one ingredient that came before all the rest. Somebody somewhere started experimenting. It might have been a scientist looking for something else when he stumbled across a wonder drug. It might have been a businessman looking for new ways to use waste materials. But it was the first experiment that started the whole thing.

I say "the first experiment" because I know from having worked in the chemical industry that very few products get discovered on the first try. It's more likely that years pass by before the product is perfected for the market.

In case you're wondering what all this has to do with schools, this is an age of experiment in education, too. Take just one problem alone: the teacher shortage. Communities all over the land are coming to the conclusion that we'll have to try new ways of teaching if we're going to teach growing numbers of children with fewer teachers. If we keep on demanding one teacher for every 25 children, there just aren't going to be enough. Half of all college graduates would have to go into teaching to provide that many teachers and we know that isn't going to happen.

So what's happening in experimentation. Some communities are trying out teachers' aides, using auxiliary teachers the way hospitals use nurses' aides to do the non-professional work. These teachers' aides can monitor study halls, help the children on with snowsuits, pass out examination papers, do many of the non-teaching chores which leave the teacher free to do what he does best: teach.

Other communities are trying television. This way, they say, they can get one expert art teacher, for example, who can go before the cameras and give top-flight teaching to all the students in the school district. I've seen educational television at work in Pittsburgh, where public and private schools alike have it, and I was pretty impressed.

Many organizations are plugging for training college women whose children have grown up to go into the classroom. They say these women know children and children's problems and with some training on how to teach they'd make excellent teachers.

Maybe none of those methods is just right to help solve the teacher shortage in your town. All I'm saying is that we're going to have to experiment to find out which method—or combination of methods—will result in the best possible education for our children.

If you'd like more information on these experiments, write the word "teacher" on a postcard with your name and address and send it to me, c/o Better School, 9 East 40th Street, New York 18, New York.

And if you're trying new ideas in your community, I'd like to hear about them.

World's Largest Motel Opens In Nation's Capital

The motel gets bigger all the time. With the recent opening of the Marriott Motor Hotel, Washington, D. C. now becomes the home of the world's largest. Everything at the Marriott is designed to make guests like this honeymooning couple, feel at ease. Drive-in registration allows motorists to select their rooms from 3-D color photos and drive right to their rooms, guided by bell boys on bikes.

Luxury features include extra-long custom built beds (because surveys show that Americans are one inch taller than their World War I counterparts); sound-proofing to eliminate all noise; TV and phones in every room.

Many of the Marriott's rooms have a view of the Washington Monument. It's a one-minute drive to the Jefferson Memorial, and five minutes to the White House. The 370-room giant has two swimming pools, free ice dispensing machines on every floor, a Hot Shoppes restaurant, outdoor dining, a children's playground, free irons and ironing boards in every room.

Children And TB

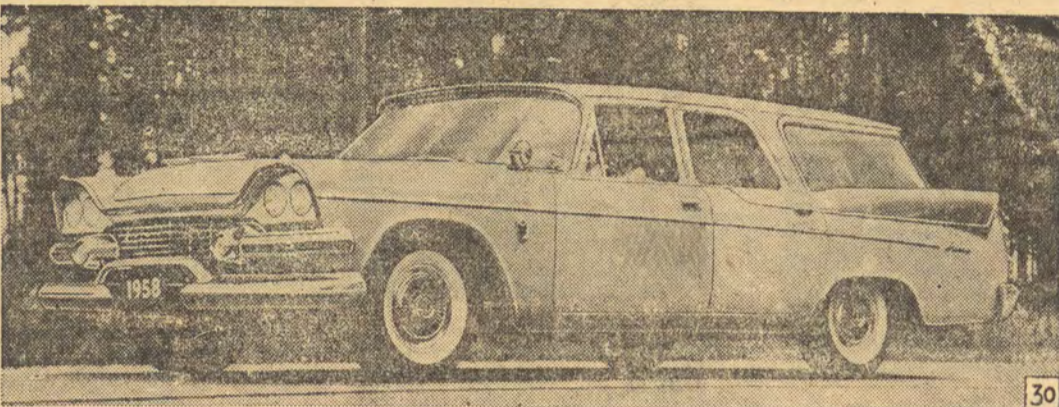

In spite of the brace for spinal tuberculosis, Gary enjoys a bedside visit from Judy, another TB patient, and little Andrew, blinded by tuberculous meningitis. Children may catch TB from adults who have unsuspected TB. Chest X-ray campaigns to find unknown cases of TB are supported by funds raised in the Christmas Seal Sale now being carried on by the 2,000 tuberculosis associations in the United States.

New High In Styling, Safety

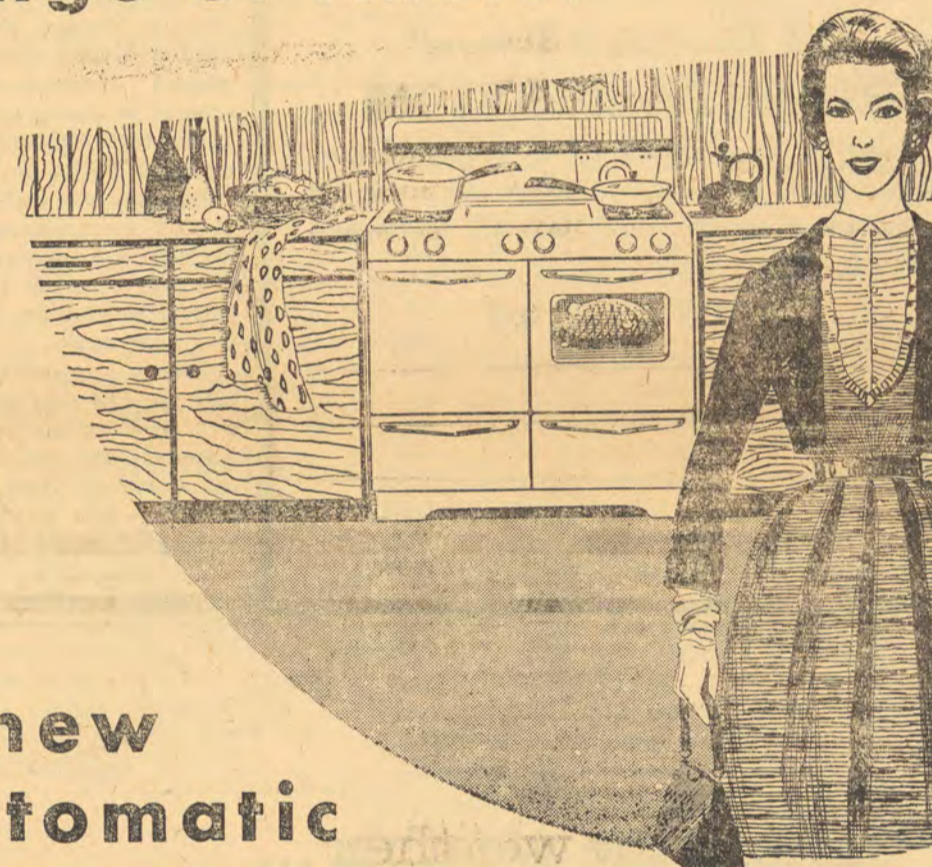

A complete safety group, consisting of power steering, power brakes, padded dashboard and sun visors, is available on all 1958 Dodge cars. This Custom Royal four-door Lancer also features the compound picture windshield, standard on all hardtop and convertible models. The push-button Torque-Flite transmission is an added convenience, and the safety Torsion-Aire ride is standard on all models.

Dodge Offers Five Station Wagons

Reflecting an unprecedented and still increasing demand for the station wagon as a family car, Dodge will offer five separate station wagon models for 1958. The four-door Sierra, shown here, will be offered in standard and custom models, while the two-door Suburban will be offered in the standard line. Also available are two models of the Sierra Spectator with its rear-facing third seat.

Deer Seen Close In, Bushy Tails Scarce

A large deer was run over and killed by a motorist on Hwy. 59 within a mile of The Village shopping center here, last week.

The deer emerged from woods behind Vaughn's Grocery on the north side of the city limits. A large buck was seen running from the same vicinity the following day. The big boy ran across Hwy. 58 to the Old Diboll highway, wheeled and returned to the same spot he came from, reports Lefty Vaughn.

Very few deer ever been seen so close to a populated area. And with deer season opening Nov. 1, chances are they will not be seen around here again.

Local hunters still report a scarcity of squirrel, especially in river bottom areas. Most of the 'bushy tails' have moved to hilly areas in search of hickory nuts and acorns. Hunters reporting finding of squirrel cutting pine cones say the animals still are difficult to find without the help of dogs.

Orderly Vets Day Observed In Diboll

Business, education and industry took their regular paths of operation here Monday, Nov. 11, our nationally recognized Veteran's Day holiday.

Only the local Post Office and the Diboll State Bank were closed. All other business establishments remained open, and school proceeded as usual in the Diboll system.

Major industries operated Monday also.

Diboll schools will turn out Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 27, for the Thanksgiving Day holidays. Classes will resume on Monday, Dec. 2.

All business houses in Diboll have reported to The News-Bulletin that they will observe a full day's holiday on Thanksgiving, while Southern Pine Lumber Co. employees will celebrate with a two-hour lunch period instead of the customary one-hour period.

Constable Dan Ferley reported no arrests or public disturbances over the Veterans Day weekend.

TAX STUDY LAUNCHED

For the first time in Texas history, work is under way to draw up the "big picture" on state taxes.

State Tax Commission, created by the last Legislature, has begun its work of finding out who pays how much to the state. Plan is to have the Texas Research League do the data-gathering with help from eminent experts in the field.

Findings will be presented to the next regular session which is expected to be faced with a deficit and the necessity of putting new taxes or someone.

But commission members emphasized they would present no recommendations for new taxes, only facts on current ones.

AT IT AGAIN

For the third time in a row, a new Travis County grand jury has set to work with the charge

THE FEAST OF '57

Thanksgiving and the specialty of the day . . . King Turkey, of course! And, here's a stuffing to give it even greater glamour . . . Mushroom-Rice Stuffing made with packaged pre-cooked rice. For a colorful garnish, fill orange cups with spiced fresh cranberries.

- MUSHROOM RICE STUFFING
 1 large box (about 4 cups) packaged pre-cooked rice
 1 tablespoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 1/2 cup water, boiling
 1/2 cup butter
 1/2 cup chopped onions
 1/2 cups chopped celery and celery leaves
 1/2 pound (about 1 1/2 cups) sliced, fresh mushrooms

Add packaged pre-cooked rice, salt, and pepper to water, boiling in a large saucepan. Mix just to moisten all rice. Cover, remove from heat, and let stand as directed in Step 2 on the back of the packaged pre-cooked rice box.

Meanwhile, melt butter in skillet. Add onions, celery and leaves, and mushrooms. Sauté until lightly browned. Add to prepared rice. Put stuffing into turkey. Do not pack tightly. Roast at once. Makes 12 cups stuffing, or enough for a 12- to 15-pound turkey.

to discover any possible misconduct by state officials. Gov. Price Daniel urged the investigation. "Wild and unwarranted charges do great harm," he said, "and the makers should be given opportunity to put up or shut up."

Judge Mace Thurman echoed this view at the swearing-in session. Any citizen with information on malfeasance in office has not only the right, but an obligation to go to the grand jury, he said. Object: to indict the guilty and clear the innocent of charges from "insinuation or rumor."

LOBBY PROPOSALS

After all the furore, both House and Senate lobby control bills looked pretty mild.

Both would require registration of paid lobbyists and reports on how much they spend to influence legislation (over $50 in the Senate bill; over $25 in the House bill).

Neither would require details on how the money was spent.

A proposed substitute measure in the House would make the lawmaker's responsible for reporting money spent on them by lobbyists.

EARLY END

An early freeze caused a sharp halt in crop growth for about half the state. It damaged some sorghum fields, reports USDA, and hit all areas which still had late cotton crops to be harvested. Other areas reported ruined share of the money. But what could be less interesting than such a life?

Why does a man keep getting out of bed every morning and going out to battle the world with a short stick? Why, one very large reason is that this just may be the day when things fit together just right and somehow he will make a big score and get a couple of jumps ahead.

Ah, of what? Why, the banker or the mortgage man or the grocery bill or the guy next door or a thousand things that a citizen competes with and fails in this life.

Money itself is only a sort of loving cup that goes to the winners of the competition. It can then be cashed in to get some of the things a guy fights for. Money, of course, is not the only award in the old game. It just happens to be the most popular.

So let us not condemn a rich man just because he has won the loving cup. It's a lot more fun to try to take it away from him.
